

STRIKERS CLOSE MORE COAL MINES

Few Shafts in Anthracite Region Now Producing Any Coal.

NO BREAK FROM RANKS

It is Predicted a Settlement Will Be Reached by Next Thursday.

MASS MEETING FOR DIGGERS

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 5.—More collieries in the Schuylkill district were shut down this morning and last night. President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers association declared every one of the Philadelphia and Reading's thirty-nine collieries, with one exception, idle. The exception is at Trevorton. The gains of the strikers were made at Tower City, Good Spring, and Lincoln. John Fahy, President of the Schuylkill district, estimates the number of strikers in that region is 49,760.

Word Must Come from Mitchell. In the Panther Creek region the strike is making slow progress. No attention is paid to the operators' proposition, and the strikers insist word to return to work must come from Mitchell.

It was reported here today that the independent operators upon whom depends the speedy termination of the strike, were in consultation again in New York. President Mitchell declared he knew nothing of the meeting nor of any decision reached by the operators.

Predicts Peace Next Week.

While President Mitchell positively refused to have anything to say today in reference to a settlement of the coal strike, it is a fact that negotiations to bring about peace are now pending, and it is confidently asserted by the operators that a settlement will be accomplished by Thursday of next week if certain agreements entered into two weeks ago are respected.

Four of the Roads Agree.

Thus far four of the great coal roads—the Pennsylvania, the Reading, the Lehigh and the Lackawanna—have agreed to the 10 per cent. increase, and the others will, it is believed, soon take similar action.

The officials of the Pennsylvania Coal Company admit they will agree to a 10 per cent. increase. This is really the longest step toward peace so far made; for this company and the Delaware and Hudson Coal Company are practically independent operators at the coal fields, and thus far the Pennsylvania has held out against an increase.

Miners May Meet at Scranton.

At New York today William V. Thorne, vice president of the company, said: "Although our company has not made a definite offer of a ten per cent. advance to our miners, I suppose we shall have to follow the lead of the others in so doing. We could not get any miners to work for us if we did not."

The Delaware and Hudson Company, which occupies exactly the same position as the Pennsylvania company, has yet to be heard from on its willingness to fall into line on the 10 per cent. basis.

The Miners' Convention.

The locals in the Schuylkill region have already chosen their delegates to the convention, which is to adopt or reject the proposition of settlement. President Mitchell denies all knowledge of the time when this convention will be called, but, inasmuch as the ten days' time limit expires next Thursday, and on that day there is to be a large parade in Scranton, it is believed the delegates will then meet in convention.

General MacArthur Has Made Arrangements to Convey the Entire Force to Manila.

Shanghai, Oct. 5.—[Special Cablegram]—The withdrawal of the United States force from Peking began Wednesday, October 3. The marines, Maj. William P. Biddle commanding, marched to Tien Tsin, and the Fourth Infantry followed them closely. The American garrisons at Ho-Si-Wu and Pei-Isang will also be withdrawn.

Most of the allied generals are opposed to taking revenge, which it is supposed the Germans have in view. The Germans are planning a movement to Tung Chow to capture the arsenal.

WISCONSIN RIVERS ARE ON A RAMPAGE

Sawmills Close on Account of Rising Waters—Railroad Tracks Are Washed Out.

Wausau, Oct. 5. The rivers in the upper part of the state are on a rampage as the result of the copious rains. Dispatches say the Wisconsin river has already exceeded the flood mark of last spring and any greater rise will result in heavy loss. Mills have been obliged to close down and lumber and logs along the river are being swept down stream. The Northwestern road has two washouts on Rib river and trains are not getting through. A washout on the Ashland division of the same road near Kaukauna detained trains for several hours. The Viroqua division of the St. Paul road is damaged so that trains are greatly delayed. Chippewa Falls says the Chippewa river has risen ten feet and if there is more rainfall a damaging flood is anticipated. A Merrill dispatch says the sawmills are closed down, the Vally division of the Milwaukee road is breached at Pine river bridge and still the Wisconsin river continues to rise. Merrill is flooded, lumber yards and all, and the water still rising.

Holds Railroad for Trunk.

Liability of a railroad company for the loss of a sample trunk as freight is upheld in Trimble vs. New York C. & H. R. Co. (N. Y.) 48, L. R. A. 115, where it was checked without any misrepresentation or any release of liability, on payment of a charge for excess baggage the same as if it were ordinary baggage, and the baggage-man had constructive notice of the character of the trunk, although there was a rule of the company which prohibited checking such trunks without a release of liability.

H. F. CORBETT ASKS FOR BIG DAMAGES

He Sues the Racine Chief of Police For $10,000 For Malicious Arrest in Cheney Shooting.

Racine, Wis., Oct. 5.—Papers in an action brought by Henry F. Corbett for $10,000 damages was served on Chief of Police Edward Schumacher last night. Corbett is the book agent who was arrested by the chief when he was a patrolman on the charge of shooting and attempting to murder Rev. David B. Cheney and wife.

In his complaint Corbett charges that his arrest was malicious and that he was obliged to associate with criminals, occupying a dirty and filthy dungeon and that his health is shattered, and that he is loathed and shunned by society, also that he was arrested on a charge of vagrancy and afterwards dismissed.

Some months ago Corbett brought suit against Rev. and Mrs. Cheney and the chief of police jointly, for $25,000 each on the same grounds.

MISCREANT TRIES TO INJURE HANNA

Big Piece of Ice Hurlled At the Senator While Speaking in a Tent At Chicago.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 5.—Senator Mark Hanna, chairman of the republican National committee, escaped by a hair's breadth of having his head cut open by a big chunk of ice thrown at him from behind at the republican tent rally at Halstead and Sixty-fifth streets last evening.

The senator was just finishing his speech, which had caused the enthusiasm of 15,000 republicans gathered in the monster tent to reach its highest point and was on the point of sitting down, when the piece of ice, weighing at least four or five pounds, whizzed by his head and smashed into a dozen pieces on the floor of the speaker's stand. Senator Hanna started back for an instant and then sat down calmly regardless of the possibility of other missiles following the first.

There was little excitement in the audience when the assault happened, as the obscurity of the interior of the tent hid the falling ice from most of the people, and the others did not understand at the moment what had been intended. The indignation was very great, however, among those who saw it.

Taught nobody saw the miscreant, the opinion was expressed by everybody on the stand that the ice was deliberately thrown by some misguided democratic enthusiast, possibly one of the dozen or more men who had attempted to annoy the speakers by cat calls, Bryan shouts and insulting remarks earlier in the evening.

PRESIDING ELDER AGAINST SOCIABLES

SUCH FRIVOLITY DENOUNCED BY METHODIST PREACHER.

Rev. Mr. Potter Says They Are Shamefully Demoralizing—Conference at Appleton Gets Down to Work—Next Meeting at Ripon—Work in Janesville District.

Appleton, Wis., Oct. 5.—The Methodist conference sessions continued today. It was unanimously decided to hold the next annual conference at Ripon in response to a cordial invitation from that town. The session this morning was preceded by the usual devotional service. Bishop Mallalieu addressed the students of Lawrence at the college chapel.

Desecration of the Sabbath. The Rev. J. B. Davison followed with an impassioned exhortation to perfect the rules necessary to bring about a Christian observance of the Sabbath throughout the state. The speaker said that if Wisconsin was to be saved the shameful customs of Sunday baseball and Sunday excursions must be terminated. He made particular allusion to Sheboygan.

Rev. Porter Scouts Sociables.

Presiding Elder Andrew Porter of the Oshkosh district then read his report. In the course of his report he scouted church sociables, suppers and entertainments of all descriptions and rated them as being shamefully demoralizing. He advocated as the only orthodox means of raising money, subscriptions and weekly collections.

Work on Janesville District.

The reading of the report of Presiding Elder Stevens, who was appointed presiding elder of the Janesville district last year, was listened to with much interest. Mr. Stevens said that he had many experiences that were new to him, some most enjoyable, others, while not so enjoyable, were profitable. Concerning the thank offering, Mr. Stevens said "the financial pressure upon the people upon other lines has been such that they have not been able to do much for this cause." About $500 has been secured. In the neighborhood of $2,200 has been expended in buildings, improvements and extinguishing church debts.

NEW CHURCHES RISE.

Many Methodist Places of Worship Erected Last Year.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Reports on the condition of the field occupied the attention of the Rock River conference, in session at the Garfield Park Methodist church. Growth in the districts has been up to expectations, and a feature of the annual statements of the presiding elders was the mention of so many new churches built and dedicated on the North and West Sides of Chicago. More church debts also have been removed than in many years, showing a peculiarly prosperous condition of the church. Referring to the educational institutions, the presiding elder reported a larger increase than ever before in the attendance at Northwestern University. Twenty per cent of the graduates have entered the Methodist ministry. Garret Biblical Institute was praised highly, being placed ahead of Boston and Drew seminaries. The Methodist Old People's Home in Edgewater, accommodating seventy persons now and which will hold 200 when it is finished, was described in the report. What is the lowest amount on which a minister can and should live? This is the question that received some attention in the business session when Dr. J. P. Brushingham presented a report of progress for the conference sustentation fund committee, which is planning a society to give support to preachers whose churches do not give them adequate salaries. Rev. Joseph Caldwell argued that $500 a year should be sufficient. The movement to form the sustentation society was begun two years ago. The intention is to assess churches to raise money needed to help charges too weak to pay what is demanded to support a minister. A proposed constitution for the organization was presented. On motion of Dr. P. H. Swift, consideration of the constitution and of the formation of the society was set for 10 o'clock Saturday.

As announced today by Bishop Nide the sum of $1,357 is the apportionment from the profits of the book concern for the Rock River conference, to be added to the conference claimants' funds. Rev. O. F. Mattison delivered the missionary sermon. This evening Rev. M. E. Cady, D. D., of the Western Avenue church, presided over the missionary anniversary. Rev. C. S. Dudley of the Oakland church and Dr. W. F. Oldham, missionary secretary, delivered addresses.

VICTORY FOR CONSERVATIVES.

They Hold New Castle, Defeating Capt. Lambton, the Liberal.

London, Oct. 3.—The Conservatives held Newcastle by enormously increased majorities and Capt. Lambton of the British cruiser Powerful, upon whom the Liberals counted to deal a crushing blow to the government, finds himself at the bottom of the poll.

John Laurence Carew, Irish Nationalist, has been defeated in the contest in the College Green division of Dublin, which he represented in the last parliament, the opposition to him growing out of the fact that he attended a leave of the duke of York. Mr. Carew's friends seized upon the opportunity of John Howard Parnell, brother of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, losing his seat at South Meath to put Mr. Carew forward without his knowledge for South Carew, and owing to a technicality he was elected without opposition. Mr. Carew may now reconsider his offer to resign South Meath in favor of Mr. Parnell.

The Conservatives have captured another seat, Sunderland, from the Liberals.

Ice Hurlled at Hanna.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Senator Mark Hanna had a narrow escape from being hit on the head with a large lump of ice last night. He had just taken his seat after finishing a speech in a big tent at Halstead and Sixty-fifth streets, when a lump weighing about three pounds aimed through a slit in the canvas over the speakers' platform, fell with a crash on the very spot where the senator had been standing. The miscreant who threw the ice was not discovered. The senator refused after the meeting to say anything in regard to the incident, and Col. E. C. Young, who had acted as chairman of the meeting, was equally reticent. All agreed that the result might have been serious. A number of policemen were stationed at the rear of the tent and at the close of the meeting Senator Hanna was escorted to his carriage by a squad of bluecoats.

Boston, Oct. 5.—The Republican state convention renominated the present state officers and endorsed the Philadelphia national platform, with this specific addition:

"The American nation is rightfully in possession of the Philippines and charged before the world with the maintenance of law and order therein. The Republican party insists that this responsibility shall not be evaded, that the sovereignty of the United States in those islands shall not be surrendered at the call of the rifle, but that the honor of the nation and the interests of humanity require that it be maintained so long as necessary for the protection of their inhabitants against anarchy within or oppression from without, having always in view that enjoyment by them of the highest measure of self-government which their capacity warrants."

The following are the names of the nominees: For governor, Winthrop Murray Crane; lieutenant governor, John I. Bates; secretary of state, William M. Olin; treasurer, Edward S. Bradford; attorney general, Hosea A. Knowlton; auditor, Henry E. Turner; electors at large, Roger Wolcott, William Whiting.

PRINCE TUAN TO LOSE HIS HEAD

Powers Agree That the Chinese Conspirators Must Now Suffer Death.

NATIONS IN HARMONY

German Demands Modified and All Will Give Adherence to New Program.

ENGLAND IS NOT HEARD FROM

Washington, Oct. 5.—The head of Prince Tuan, father of the heir-apparent to the throne of China, and one of the chief men of the Chinese government, is in danger. It is understood that all the powers will insist that the death penalty be inflicted upon him.

If he be not actually executed, in response to the pressure of the powers, it is believed he will be so degraded that he will have no recourse, under the Chinese code, but to commit suicide.

Harmony Among the Powers.

Harmony again reigns among the powers. Thanks to the attitude assumed by the United States, the German government has modified its proposals and the new German note has been warmly endorsed by the United States.

The official notes announcing this new and most gratifying agreement were made public by the State Department. It is understood that all the powers give adherence to the new programme, and that the last obstacle in the way of negotiations for a complete settlement of the Chinese problem will be removed when the ministers of the powers have received assurances.

First, that the Chinese government is punishing the guilty leaders and all of them.

Second, that the punishment fits the crimes.

Third, that the punishments are actually inflicted.

No Guilty Man to Escape.

The United States has joined Germany and all the powers will, doubtless join Germany and the United States in insistence that there be no sham punishments on the part of the Chinese authorities. No guilty man is to escape. The Chinese method of making a scapegoat of carefully selected persons is not to be tolerated. Mere pretense of punishment, to continue only until the storm has blown over, will not do.

Germany would like to insist upon punishment of the empress dowager, and the other powers, knowing her guilt, with reluctance decline to support the German view on this point.

No one doubts that the wicked old woman deserves to have her head removed, or at least to be deposed from power, but to do so would, in the opinion of most of the governments, work more harm than good. The Chinese mandarins of all classes have such superstitious regard for the sacredness of their royal personages that chaos would be pretty sure to follow a just punishment of the empress.

Much satisfaction is expressed by the officials of the Washington administration with the aspect of the Chinese situation. With Germany satisfied and the Chinese government showing a disposition to comply with all the demands of the powers to mete out severe punishment, it is believed all minor differences may be harmonized and a final settlement ultimately reached.

For a Moderate Indemnity.

Nor will the United States favor large indemnities. It is well understood that extravagant demands are likely to be made by some of the powers, compliance with which will be beyond the financial resources of the Chinese government.

This may be a source of trouble when the negotiations reach that stage. The United States will favor a moderate indemnity, so financed as to permit the Chinese government to get upon its feet. The United States will continue to oppose any cession of territory by way of indemnification.

Unworthy of the Least Mercy.

We live in hopes of witnessing the day when not an omnibus or road car will remain to afflict the eyesight, obstruct the progress, destroy the nerves or try the temper of the long-suffering Londoner. There is not the smallest occasion for tender-heartedness in the matter. There never was a threatened institution less deserving of sympathy than the London 'bus. It is not even as if it were good of its kind. From its nature the 'bus must necessarily be slow, clumsy, space-filling, tiresome. It need not, however, be the abominably lighted and atrociously ventilated (or unventilated) vehicle which in point of fact it is. In short, the 'bus as we know it is impossible and incorrigible. —Westminster Gazette.

WARM CHASE AFTER NEW TOBACCO CROP

FROM FIFTY EAGER BUYERS
IN THE FIELD.

Half the Sound Leaf Has Been Contracted For—Prices Range from 7 to 9 1/2 Cents—Estimated. That 90 Per Cent of the Vernon County Crop is Good—Edgerton News.

Edgerton, Wis., Oct. 5.—The movement in the new crop has developed into a pretty warm chase in the lower growing sections of late. From fifty to sixty buyers are in the field and the competition has naturally induced some rapid contracting. It is rather a difficult matter to estimate the amount of tobacco purchased under such conditions, but some dealers fresh from the field assert that half the sound tobacco has been contracted for.

It is estimated that 90 per cent. of Vernon county is sold and the Rio section well gathered up. Most of the big operators in Wisconsin leaf are now interested in the movement and fresh buyers are entering the field. The prices that are being paid will average with those that prevailed for Vernon county leaf earlier, and attractive as they seem growers are not over-anxious to accept them. They range from 7 and a 1/2 and 2. The largest rate reported is a 40-acre crop sold by Ole Egner which brought 8 and 1.—Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter.

Wm. S. Brill, leaf buyer for the N. Y. manufacturing firm of Kerbs, Wertheim & Schiffer, came Sunday morning and has entered the list of buyers for the new crop. He says since the New York strike his firm has opened seven factories outside of that city and are now working upwards of 3,000 hands.

Hail Stones as Large as Hens' Eggs Covered the Ground—Dr. Nourse Opens the Republican Campaign at Evansville—Football Game Last Saturday—Evansville News Notes

Evansville, Oct. 5.—The political campaign was formally opened in this city Wednesday evening by the republicans with Dr. Robert Nourse of Washington, D. C. One of the largest crowds ever seen in Evansville at a political meeting was in attendance, notwithstanding the fact that it was advertised only three days. Mr. Nourse is no stranger to us, having delivered several lectures here, but this was the first political speech he ever delivered in Evansville. He is very entertaining, occasionally throwing in enough spice to keep his audience in good humor. He handled all the various questions with ease and gave the prohibis a jolt with his explanation of the army canteen. Come again, Robert.

We have received word that the worst storm of the season occurred at Brooklyn, Wis., six miles northwest of this city, today. The wind blew a gale, demolishing shade trees and numerous outbuildings. Hail stones as large as hens' eggs covered the ground, breaking hundreds of window glass. The storm lasted fifteen or twenty minutes.

Chief of Police Broughton and Deputy Gillman were summoned to Portage Monday as witnesses against Charles Hughes, one of the hold up men captured there a short time ago. Hughes waived examination and will be tried at the next term of court, about Dec. 1.

The Madison high school foot ball team defeated our boys here last Saturday, 22 to 0. The Madison boys played a fast, snappy game, and week before held the varsity team down to the small score of 6 to 0. Taking the fact into consideration that the Madison boys have all the advantages of the coaching and training of the best foot ball talent in the university, our boys did exceedingly well.

Prof. E. E. De Cou of this city, who has held a professorship in the Chicago university during the last two years and was principal of our high school at one time, left for New Haven, Conn., where he will take a post graduate course in mathematics at Yale college.

Many are going to Belvidere Saturday to hear the only Teddy. The low rate of $1 for the round trip has been made by the railroad company, and will run a special, starting from Evansville.

William Hamilton and Adda Holloway of this city were married at the home of the bride Wednesday evening, Rev. Millar officiating.

Arthur Suesshall has bought out W. Young, the senior member of the firm of Young & Meiske, our popular furniture dealers. Hereafter the firm will be known as Meiske & Suesshall.

The tobacco buyers have been unusually busy the last week and bought up nearly the entire crop in this section at prices ranging from 7 to 9 cents. The farmers are happy.

The five months old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Bagley died last week. The funeral was held Saturday.

Clyde Fisher and Lou Cutwright are going to open a meat market at Marshall, this state.

During the winter of 1897 Mr. James Reed, one of the leading citizens and merchants of Clay City, W. Va., stuck his leg against a cake of ice in such a manner as to bruise it severely. It became very much swollen and pained him so badly that he could not walk without the aid of crutches. He was treated by physicians, also used several kinds of liniment and two and a half gallons of whisky in bathing it, but nothing gave any relief until he began using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This brought almost a complete cure in a week's time and he believes that had he not used this remedy his leg would have to be amputated. Pain Balm is unequalled for sprains, bruises and rheumatism. For sale by Smith's pharmacy, opposite P. O., Kodak agents.

Slouch Is Victim of Train. Chicago, Oct. 5.—Detective Clifton B. Woodridge, specially detailed from Chief Kiplay's office to clear the downtown streets of pickpockets was himself the victim of a clever sneak in a crowd on State street and is minus a gold watch and chain. Woodridge in his professional makeup is the last person in the world to be taken for a policeman. The detective strolled along in blissful ignorance of his loss and did not discover it until walking into the Harrison street police station he was asked by the desk sergeant what time it was. The empty pocket told the story. He then retraced his steps in the hope of finding the thief, but all in vain.

CONFER ROYAL ARCH DEGREE

Meeting of Janesville Chapter No. 5, Royal Arch Masons.

The Royal Arch degree was conferred on three candidates at a meeting of Janesville Chapter No. 5, Royal Arch Masons at their home last evening. Those honored were W. H. Merritt, E. W. Putnam and H. J. Salisbury. After the work an elaborate banquet was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star. The tables were handsomely decorated and the spread was a credit to the ladies that prepared it. The banquet was highly enjoyed by all present especially by those who had taken active part in the work of the evening.

Shot by Unseen Assassin.

Mifflintown, Pa., Oct. 5.—While reclining on a chair beside an open window last night, at his home at Oriental, Juniata county, Adam Goodling was shot through the mouth by an unknown assassin and instantly killed. Sunday Mr. Goodling was heard to remark that he had but two enemies in the world, one of whom he was terribly in fear.

DISCOVERY

The body is built up from the food we eat. But before food can be assimilated by the body it must be prepared for assimilation by the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Food does not feed when the stomach is "out of order." The result is, weak muscles and flabby flesh. "Golden Medical Discovery" heals diseases of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system. It works with Nature to make manly muscle and form firm flesh. In a letter received from A. D. Weller, Esq., of Pensacola, Fla., he states: "I have since receiving your diagnosis of my case, as stomach trouble and liver complaint, taken eight bottles of the Golden Medical Discovery and must say that I am transformed from a walking shadow (as my friends called me) to perfect health."

MR. BRYAN'S WARNING

"If there is anyone who believes that the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."—Hon. William Jennings Bryan, Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 16, 1896.

PARTY HARMONY.

While there may be a lack of campaign enthusiasm among Wisconsin republicans, it is gratifying to know that there is no lack of harmony. The will of the convention that placed at the head of the ticket the name of R. M. La Follette, is accepted as the will of the majority, and whatever of personal ambition on the part of other candidates, or personal preference on the part of their friends has been sacrificed, the sacrifice has been made in a spirit of loyalty, and the party stands today united.

These conditions, while gratifying to the republicans, are a source of disappointment to the democrats, who predicted and anticipated a bitter factional fight, whatever might be the outcome of the republican state convention. They were confident that the La Follette men would never endorse an anti-La Follette candidacy, and equally confident that Mr. La Follette's success would result in a rupture in the party.

But as the campaign progresses, they discover that Wisconsin republicans place party loyalty above personal preference.

The republicans of the state are La Follette men today, just as thoroughly as they would have been Whitehead or Bradford men, had either one of these gentlemen been honored by the convention. Many of them had become weary of internal strife, and hail with satisfaction any honorable method to avert it.

Mr. La Follette will be the next governor of the state, because his name is at the head of the republican ticket, and that means success in Wisconsin, in this year of our Lord nineteen hundred.

It is not a question of personal worth, of which he is rarely possessed, or with brilliancy with which he is rarely endowed, neither is it a question of radical reform, with which in the minds of some of his supporters he may be unduly tinctured, but it is a question of principle and party loyalty. The honor that has come to Mr. La Follette at the hands of the republican party makes him the leader and exponent of the party in the state, and the republicans, irrespective of past preferences, or affiliations, will honor him again in November, by a majority that will convince the most skeptical that party harmony prevails.

What Wisconsin lacks in campaign enthusiasms the state of Indiana supplies. Every brass band in the state is working over time and every school house is bristling with oratory. The railroads are so busy handling excursionists that the farmers are unable to market their products, and the people generally are so hoarse that they can't speak above a whisper. Bryan says "good bye" from the rear platform of his train, while Woolley says "good morning" from the pilot of the engine of his train, as it waits for the Bryan train to pull out, and yet the state will surely go republican.

Bishop Malladien of the Methodist church, has recently done some good advertising for "David Harum" by denouncing the book at a conference in La Crosse, where he presided. Every minister wanted a copy the next day, and the local dealers were unable to supply the demand. The publishers will doubtless be glad to pay the overzealous bishop a commission.

General Bragg of Tennessee, has consented to address the gold democrats of Milwaukee. This must be cold comfort to the party with which he has so long affiliated. The general evidently does not believe with Mr. Ross that the financial question is not an issue, and with many other level headed democrats he proposes to take no chances.

It is estimated that one million young men will cast their first vote for president this fall and that fully two-thirds of this number will vote for McKinley. As the first vote is largely influenced by home surroundings, the prediction speaks well for a large majority of the homes of the country.

The democratic party should feel proud of its Allies in the Philippines. Aguinaldo proposes to continue the war until after election, hoping that Bryan and his friends of the democracy will win. A forlorn hope this year.

The morning oracle has discovered that "England is rooting for McKinley." Just when or how the discovery was made, is not stated. If the statement is correct, it is safe to say that England is voting in a new pasture.

Mr. Ross consoled Mr. Bryan's audience at La Crosse by stating that the financial question was not involved in this campaign. Evidently the Milwaukee politician is not familiar with the issues.

With a telephone in the parlor and an electric road at the door, life on a farm will be a continued holiday.

Georgia has gone democratic and yet the party is not happy.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS.

They Are Not Flocking Around Bryan to Any Alarming Extent.

The Niagara Falls Cataract Journal is snatching at any straw that comes along in an effort to hold up the political fortunes of Bryan and his amalgamated party. Referring to this paper, The Cataract Journal says:

"The News of course has nothing to say about the commercial travelers. The secretary of the national organization informed Mr. Bryan the other day that 50,000 commercial travelers have been thrown out of employment as a result of the operation of trusts, and he said that all of these men would support Mr. Bryan. There is no doubt that most of them will."

Oh, yes. The News has something to say about the commercial travelers. There is not a word of truth in what the secretary says if the secretary said anything like the above. The commercial travelers never lost a situation through any act of the Republican party. Those who were thrown out of employment by the trusts, which, it is now shown, are Democratic more than they are Republican, found employment again either as owners of opposition trusts or as agents for new business combinations which grew out of the rivalry engendered by the purchase of the old establishments and organizations.

The good times which President McKinley's protective tariff brought upon the country opened new avenues of trade, and the commercial travelers have reaped a reward as well as other industrial representatives. The promises of 1896 were kept to them as well as to other workers. Commercial travelers are gathering in club organizations in New York and elsewhere. The News told the other day of a splendid club organization just formed in New York city whose noonday meetings are attended by larger crowds than the meetings of the Republican party. They are Republican, found employment again either as owners of opposition trusts or as agents for new business combinations which grew out of the rivalry engendered by the purchase of the old establishments and organizations.

The matter of the 50,000 commercial travelers out of employment joining the "calamity" band of minstrels to sing doleful songs for campaign purposes is more conducive of humor than serious remark, for it is a story thrown out from Lincoln, where the ready writers for Bryan are manufacturing stories at which they laugh as they cast them broadcast upon the country. But the following from the Lockport Journal exposes the true inwardness of the secretary's story which is taken in dead earnest by the Cataract Journal. The Journal says: "That commercial traveler who attempted to organize a Bryan Commercial Travelers' club in Buffalo on Saturday night and who failed because he could find no Bryanized commercial travelers has now advertised for some in the Buffalo papers. Pretty hard lines when one has to seek the 'want' columns of newspapers to run down a few of those 50,000 traveling men who have come over to Bryan this year."—Buffalo News.

REPUBLICAN RALLY AT ARMORY HALL

OPENING GUN IN THE ROCK CO. CAMPAIGN FIRED.

Messrs. Wheeler and Jeffris Speak to a Large and Enthusiastic Crowd—The Janesville Republican Club Formally Completes Its Organization—Points Made by Spellbinders

The republicans opened the campaign in Janesville last evening by a rally at the Armory hall that filled it to overflowing. Many people could not get into the hall or into the hallway outside the door. At least six hundred people assembled to take part in the proceedings and listen to the speakers of the evening, Hon. W. G. Wheeler and M. G. Jeffris.

The Y. M. C. A. band and the G. A. R. file and drum corps furnished the music and helped to arouse the enthusiasm of the assemblage. Before the speaking commenced a business meeting was held by the Republican Club and a large amount of business was transacted.

Club Badge Is Yellow.

W. O. Newhouse, president of the club, presided and called the meeting to order. F. L. Clemons, secretary of the club, kept the minutes. Yellow badges with Janesville Republican Club printed on them were adopted as the club badge and were provided for all members of the club and will be worn by those attending the Roosevelt rally at Belvidere tomorrow. The by-laws of the club were read and adopted.

The Trip to Belvidere.

The committee in charge of the excursion to Belvidere was increased from three to six and is now composed of E. D. Roberts, J. L. Bear, J. C. Ulrich, O. F. Nowlan, J. S. Winslow and Orville Morse. They are canvassing the city today to see if the necessary number can be secured to attend the rally to secure a special train and get the one dollar rate. It is the intention of the committee to have two bands accompany the excursion. The Y. M. C. A. band has been secured and the Imperial band cannot be secured. It is thought that the Edgerton band will go with them and also about fifty republicans from Edgerton.

Col. E. O. Kimberly Sings.

Col. E. O. Kimberly, the so-called singer, was present at the rally and sang two campaign songs in his usual pleasing manner. They were "Good-bye Bryan, Good-bye and There Will Be No Bryanites There." Both songs aroused unbounded enthusiasm. After the speaking was finished a large number of those present stayed and signed the club roll.

Wheeler Made a Hit.

Mr. Wheeler was the first speaker and made a speech that caught the assemblage and was loudly applauded at its close. He touched upon the platform of both parties and gave a brief history of them. He called attention to the fact that the republican party had fulfilled every promise made in 1896.

He referred briefly to the condition of the country at the time and compared it with the present condition. He reminded the laboring man of the conditions that prevailed at that time and those of the present time and asked them if they were willing to go back to the conditions which then prevailed. He referred to the republican party as the party of prosperity and the democratic party as the party of adversity, and contrasted the two.

He amplified on Imperialism and the currency question and the sound principles back of both questions. The president was now carrying out a policy that was for the best interests of all people and should be allowed to finish the good work already partly completed.

There should be no swapping horses while crossing streams. He appealed to all members of the party to stick to it and vote the straight ticket.

During Mr. Wheeler's speech he referred to the "Star Spangled Banner." This seemed to touch some democrat in the crowd in a tender spot and he interrupted Mr. Wheeler and asked him to state the platform of the republican party. Mr. Wheeler told him it could hardly be expected of him to give the full platform at this time, but if there was any particular point he wished to know about to state it and he would try and enlighten him.

The party that asked the question was greeted with hisses and cries of throw him out. He subsided and was glad to keep quiet for the rest of the evening. E. O. Kimberly sang a campaign song and was so liberally applauded that he sang another, which was equally well received.

Jeffris in Good Form.

M. G. Jeffris was the next speaker and was in unusually good form. He spoke rapidly and forcibly and handled his subject in a way that showed he was in earnest and thoroughly acquainted with what he wished to say. He carried the crowd with him and held them to the close.

He touched on all the issues of the day and showed wherein every man was being benefited by the policy of the party. He took up the subject of trusts. He said there were good trusts and bad trusts, that the party was in favor of good trusts and down on the bad ones. He said Ryan stated that there were more trusts formed in the last four years than for a number of years previous to that time.

He was willing to admit that was right, but that was the reason that they had been formed. Because before that time there was no money with which to form trusts. Which was the better condition to have, no money and no trusts or money and trusts?

For his part he was willing to take the latter and take his chances on the trusts getting his money away from him. The republicans introduced a bill in the last Congress to regulate the trusts and it was defeated by the democrats on the ground that it infringed on state rights. The democrats did not want trusts, but they were not willing the republicans should regulate them.

His arguments were forcible and to the point and he had a good reason for all that had been done by the republican party. The audience left well pleased with the evening and the managers were equally well pleased with the attendance which showed that the party was working to assure the success of the campaign.

HORSE AND CARRIAGE FOR JOHN HEATH

FORMER NORTHWESTERN MASTER MECHANIC HONORED

Gift Was Made by the Employees of the Wisconsin Division, Who Took This Means of Showing Their Esteem for Mr. Heath, at His Home in Winetka, Ill.

John Heath, formerly of this city and now master mechanic of the C. & N. W. R. R. at Chicago, was, last evening, presented with a horse and rubber-tired carriage and outfit costing in the neighborhood of five hundred dollars. The gift was made by the employees of the Wisconsin division who took this means of showing the esteem they felt for Mr. Heath.

A special train carried the assembled railroad men and their wives from Chicago to Mr. Heath's home at Winetka, Ill., the party included prominent railroad men from all parts of the division. They received a cordial welcome from Mr. Heath and his charming bride. Assistant Master Mechanic E. Harry Wade had charge of the exercises and made a few introductory remarks after which Mr. E. G. Harlow, storekeeper of the Janesville shops, made the presentation speech.

Mr. Heath accepted the gift in a few well chosen words. He was so overcome with emotion that it was difficult for him to say much. However highly he prized the gift, he prized the esteem of the employees much more. Light refreshments were served by Mrs. Heath and later the party was taken to the Briggs house in Chicago where an elaborate six course dinner was served.

The committee who had charge of the gift and its presentation included Assistant Master Mechanic E. N. Wade; Engine Foreman L. H. Allen, Chicago and J. W. Cryslor, foreman of the Milwaukee shops. Those from Janesville privileged to be present were: Thomas Erickson, foreman of the Janesville shops, Storekeeper E. G. Harlow, Engineer Henry Brazzell, Mr. Harlow's daughter, Mrs. Harry Garbutt and Mrs. O. H. Brann. The party went to Chicago yesterday noon and returned on the midnight flyer.

DEATH OF N. S. GREEN

He Was One of the Pioneer Business Men of Fort Atkinson—Born in New York in 1810.

Fort Atkinson, Wis., Oct. 5.—Nathan S. Green, one of the best known men of Jefferson county, died yesterday, aged 90 years.

Mr. Green was born in Saratoga county, New York, Jan. 21, 1810. He came to Wisconsin in 1846 with his family, and lived for less than a year in Milwaukee. In 1847 he moved to Milford, Jefferson county, where he resided until 1884, when he moved to the city of Fort Atkinson.

While a resident of Milford Mr. Green was engaged in general merchandise and had an extensive trade with Dane and Jefferson counties. He became the owner of the mill power at that place constructed on the Crawfish, a branch of Rock river, which consisted of a saw mill and flouring mill. He carried on a large milling and lumber business for many years.

The groom is an especially bright and industrious young man who holds a responsible position with the Wisconsin Carriage Company. They will be at home their friends at 113 North Academy street.

Gillispie-Hayes.

Lyle Gillispie, formerly an employee of Con. McDonald's restaurant, and Miss Iva Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayes, residing on Prospect avenue, were united in marriage at Rockford, Ill., yesterday morning. Their many friends extend congratulations.

Evansville, Wis., Oct. 5.—William H. Hamilton and Addary Holloway were married at the residence of the bride's parents last evening, Rev. Miller officiating.

That English Alliance.

The Democratic national platform condemns "the ill conceived Republican alliance with England" while at the same time opposing the passage of the ship subsidy bill, which seeks to take from British ships the 65 per cent of American foreign carrying they now enjoy to give it to American ships instead. It is singular that every British shipowner and shipbuilder hopes for the success of the Democrats if there exists an "ill conceived Republican alliance with England."

Before going any further with their arguments the Democratic leaders should explain why it is that if President McKinley has no backbone he can go ahead shattering the republic and establishing an empire.

FASTEST BOAT AFLOAT.

Cobra Beats the Viper's Great Record in an Unofficial Trial.

The torpedo boat destroyer Viper's marvelous record of 43 miles an hour has already been eclipsed, and the fastest vessel in the world is now her sister ship, the Cobra, says the New York Sun's London correspondent. The latter was built by the Armstrongs and is an exact duplicate of the Viper, which was built by Hawthorne, Leslie & Co., at their works at Newcastle. Both have the turbine engines.

The contract speed of each was 34 knots. The Viper did 37.113 knots on July 13. The Cobra, in an unofficial trial over the same course at the mouth of the Tyne the other day, made 37.7 knots, or 43.5 miles. Her engineers say that she has not yet done her best and that they expect fully another knot. The admiralty has now taken over the Cobra, and an official test will shortly be made.

New Electrolytic Process.

Hans A. Trash has recently patented a process for the extraction of nickel, copper and other metals from their ores which The Engineering and Mining Journal, after a careful examination, believes will revolutionize the present methods of extracting not only copper and nickel from their ores, but appears adaptable as well to the mining of silver, mercury and other metals that have hitherto offered almost insurmountable difficulties to their economical extraction in the wet way. The process consists of the electrolysis of a brine solution in such a manner that, while the sodium ions are set free at the cathodes with the immediate formation of caustic soda, the chlorine ions are liberated in the anode section containing the matte and immediately form a chloric solution of the metals present. These chlorides can be directly treated for the contained metals by electrolysis or chemical methods. It is claimed that the entire cost of the process will be fully met by the value of the caustic soda and other byproducts.

The republican club organized at the rally last night expect to go in large numbers.

REMEDY FOR TRUSTS

WOULD CERTAINLY PROVE COSTLY AND DESTRUCTIVE.

Attitude of the Bryanites Illustrated by the Fable of the Bear Who Would Use a Very Large Boulder to Smash a Very Small Insect.

A Bear, who professed much Affection for his Master, observing that a Fly troubled his noonday nap, undertook to brush the insect off with a Boulder.

Moral—Bryanite remedies are apt to prove costly and destructive.

This title and legend accompany a spirited and expressive cartoon in the current issue of The American Economist. Alike in its thought and in its pictorial expression, this illustration notably expresses the situation of American labor and industry with reference to the threat of the Democratic platform to repeal the Dingley tariff law and in its place inaugurate free trade as a means of remedying the trust evil. The Kansas City platform denounces the Dingley tariff as a breeder of trusts and for the sake of smashing the trusts proposes to smash the tariff. That is the proposition pure and simple.

The Bryanites, like the bear in the picture, would use a 100 pound boulder to brush away a tiny insect. They would undoubtedly put an end to this particular fly, though other and bigger flies would come to take its place—the international trust fly would be very certain to put in an appearance—but after the Bryanite bear should have crushed with his big boulder of free trade this little trust fly that has not yet disturbed the workman's noonday nap what would then be the condition of American labor and industry? For the answer look back to the Democratic free trade tariff period beginning with the election of Grover Cleveland and ending with the election of William McKinley. We all know what happened then. So we all know what would happen if the Bryanite bear is permitted to have his way in the campaign of 1900. The bear is ready, and the boulder is poised. Next November's vote will decide whether or not the bear shall have his way. The Republican party says there is a safer and better way to deal with the trust insect; that there are wiser and more sensible methods than the bear and boulder method of solving the trust problem.

THE BEAR AND HIS MASTER.

A Bear, who professed much Affection for his Master, observing that a Fly troubled his noonday nap, undertook to brush the insect off with a Boulder.

Mr. Bryan's recent silence is accounted for by the fact that he was spending a good deal of time trying to decide whether to commence his speeches with "My comrades of the tented field" or "My fellow farmers."

Endanger National Life.
The Democratic candidate for the presidency has persuaded the Populists, Democrats and Silver Republicans to put their interests in short, he has formed a political trust for the express purpose of destroying competition, yet stands on a platform which declares that such methods are destructive to personal liberty and dangerous to national life.

To Split the Argument.
In one breath the Democratic orator will assure his hearers that McKinley has no backbone, that he is a creature controlled by those around him, and with the next breath will accuse him of ghastly the republic to pieces in order to erect a throne on the ruins thereof.

As free silver has made Bryan a rich man he can't for the life of him see why it should not make the other fellow rich.

Without Authority.
Mr. Bryan made the platform upon which he desired to stand. The gentlemen who are trying to twist its meaning by the "paramounting" process are acting wholly upon their own responsibility.

FALSIFIED PREDICTIONS.

Democratic Leaders Ignorant of the Principles of Prosperity.

The Republican party in entering upon the campaign of 1900 has an unusual advantage.

The ordinary methods of political argument are often ineffective because there are always two sides to a question, and men of unquestioned patriotism and general intelligence may look upon different sides of a thing and see it in different ways.

But there can be no difference of opinion among reasonable men concerning two main facts of recent national history.

One is that the country was suffering from hard times four years ago.

The other is that the country is prosperous at the present time.

Sensible men, honest with themselves and with their fellows and acquainted with the conditions as they existed then and as they exist throughout the country today, do not dispute these two facts.

There is another fact equally indisputable, and that is that the Democratic party four years ago, in discussing the hard times that then existed, put itself on record as declaring that only one remedy could be found for the national misfortunes, and that was the remedy suggested by that party.

The return of prosperity demonstrates absolutely the falsity of the Democratic declarations and proves that their remedy was not the only one and that their leaders were ignorant of the principles of national prosperity.

There can be no doubt about this. The return of prosperity has falsified the Democratic predictions and principles of 1896.—Trenton Gazette.

BOY'S LONG TRIP.

Johnny Wilde Gets Back from Dawson to Be Educated.

Johnny Wilde, 10 years old, arrived at the Union station direct from Dawson City, Alaska, says a recent dispatch from St. Louis, and left on a latter train for Bridgeton, Mo., where he will spend the winter with relatives and attend school. He made the journey alone and unattended. He knew where he was going and was able to take care of himself. He left Dawson City with a party of returning miners, walking with them to the coast and carrying his provisions. He covered the entire distance without accident. After he boarded a steamer the rest of the journey was easy. He left the steamer at Tacoma, Wash., and came on to St. Louis over the Burlington route. It was his intention to visit an uncle who lives in this city, but he lost the address. All he could remember was that the number was 3959, but he had forgotten the name of the street. Patrolmen McMillan and Robertson made an effort to locate the uncle, but did not succeed. Johnny Wilde's father and mother were among the first emigrants to Dawson City. Wilde staked a claim which proved to be rich and made a fortune through it. He soon tired of digging for gold and established a hotel. This was another fortunate venture, and he continued to prosper. He is now one of Dawson's wealthiest men. Mr. and Mrs. Wilde decided recently that it would not be wise to allow Johnny to grow up in the Klondike country. They had money enough to give him a good education with suitable surroundings and decided to send him to relatives at Bridgeton.

On the 10th of December 1897, Rev. S. A. Donahoe pastor M. E. church South Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "After resorting to a number of so-called 'specifics' usually kept in the house, to no purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like a charm. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by Smith's Pharmacy next to post office, kodak agents.

The Oldest and Best.

S. S. S. is a combination of roots and herbs of great curative powers, and when taken into the circulation searches out and removes all manner of poisons from the blood, without the least shock or harm to the system. On the contrary, the general health begins to improve from the first dose, for S. S. S. is not only a blood purifier, but an excellent tonic, and strengthens and builds up the constitution while purging the blood of impurities. S. S. S. cures all diseases of a blood poison origin, Cancer, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Herpes and similar troubles, and is an infallible cure and the only antidote for that most horrible disease, Contagious Blood Poison.

A record of nearly fifty years of successful cures is a record to be proud of. S. S. S. is more popular today than ever. It numbers its friends by the thousands. Our medical correspondence is larger than ever in the history of the medicine. Many write to thank us for the great good S. S. S. has done them, while others are seeking advice about their cases. All letters receive prompt and careful attention. Our physicians have made a life-long study of Blood and Skin Diseases, and better understand such cases than the ordinary practitioner who makes a specialty of no one disease.

We are doing great good to suffering humanity through our consulting department, and invite you to write us if you have any blood or skin trouble. We make no charge whatever for this service.

STRIKE LEADERS TO STOP MEN MARCHING

Coal Miners on the Road Are Induced to Return Home—Diggers Obey the Sheriff.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 5.—Three thousand strikers, headed by a band and 300 statepoker boys, the latter carrying small American flags, left Mount Carmel at 6 o'clock in the evening to march to Trevorton, sixteen miles distant, in Northumberland county, to compel the workmen of the North Franklin colliery to remain at home tomorrow. George Hartline, secretary of the district union, accompanied by several local members of the executive board, hurried up the road, and at Green Ridge, three miles out from Mount Carmel, came upon the marchers. The committee mounted a platform, and Hartline in a five-minute address persuaded the boys to go home. Then he hurried to this place, where 5,000 miners were gathered on Shamokin and Commerce streets awaiting the arrival of the marchers. From a hotel balcony Hartline told of his successful mission and pleaded with his auditors to disperse, which they did. Some time later officials of the North Franklin announced that to prevent trouble the colliery would not be operated until the strike was settled.

Artillery Kept at Shenandoah.
Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 5.—General Gobin has rescinded the order sending Battery C home. He said that owing to the unsettled condition in the Shamokin region he thought it wise to keep the battery here for a time.

THE MINERS OBEY SHERIFF.
Force of 200 Marchers at Hazleton Dispersed in Orderly Manner.

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 5.—The only incident of the morning in the Hazleton region worth mentioning was the march of about 200 mine workers from the Diamond, in the northern part of the city, to the No. 40 shaft of the Lehigh Valley Coal company in the eastern section of the town, where they expected to get more men to quit.

Sheriff Harvey, who is in close touch with every section of Luzerne county, was early informed of the move and was waiting for the marchers at the shaft when they reached there at five o'clock. The sheriff had with him several of his deputies and half a dozen of the Lehigh Valley Coal and Iron police. They were kept in the background while the sheriff reasoned with the men in an effort to induce them not to go on company property. He told them if they placed a foot on private ground he would be compelled to arrest them for trespass. The strikers took the county officer's advice and dispersed without even attempting to carry out their plans.

Sheriff Harvey's mild method of treating with marchers has won for him the confidence of the men. He makes it a rule not to command the strikers to disperse, but to gently plead with them to commit no violation of the law. During the sixteen days of the strike he has faced a number of crowds of marchers and has succeeded in keeping them within the bounds of the law without precipitating any disturbance.

Coxe Bros. & Co., Beaver Meadow colliery, the only operation on the south side which has not been tied up, is reported by the company today to be working full-handed. It is said that a number of mine workers who were employed in the Coleraine mine until it was shut down last week through the efforts of the strikers, are working in the Beaver Meadow colliery. One of the Markle mines, Jeddo No. 5, is reported further crippled by the defection of some men who had worked there up to this morning.

SAYS ARBITRATION IS ENDED.

John Markle Corrects Wrong Impression of His New York Trip.

New York, Oct. 5.—John Markle, managing partner of Markle & Co., colliery operators, who have figured more or less prominently in the coal strike, said of his trip here:

"The newspapers have wrong impressions regarding my movements. I am here representing no one but myself. The chapter of arbitration, as far as we are concerned, is ended. On Sunday night last we got notice from the employees' committee that the arbitration had been broken by the employees. We posted a notice on Sunday giving the committee's statement and also a notice that the contract between the employees and ourselves is broken. Our notice was as follows: 'We will start up on Monday and afford every employee an opportunity to work so long as our collieries are sufficiently manned to work them.'"

BLOOD

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor.

There is nothing else to live on or by.

When strength is full and spirits high, we are being refreshed, bone muscle and brain, in body and mind, with continual flow of rich blood. This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment in it.

Back of the blood, is food, to keep the blood rich. When it fails, take Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil. It sets the whole body going again—man woman and child.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

AIMS OF THE ZIONISTS.

Jews Anxious to Return to Plains of Palestine.

NO TUMULTUOUS RUSH DESIRED.

Dr. Max Nordau Says the Zionists
Will Ask the Sultan For a Charter
Granting Them a Large Tract of Waste Land—Picked Men Will Be Taken.

At the close of the great Zionist congress held in Paris Dr. Max Nordau, on being questioned by the New York Journal correspondent about its principal features, spoke as follows:

"The congress has been a grand success, if only as clearly defining the aims of Zionism. We Zionists want three things immediately. First, we want a charter from the sultan granting a large tract of land in Palestine on the lines, say, of the English Niger or Rhodesian company.

"There are enormous tracts of waste land in Palestine of no good to any one or anything except the jackals. At the present moment we want to acquire these for cultivation. The sultan's starts and one artisan. We must pick our men, for if we took back the masses into an uncultivated barren country what would be the result? They would stand there open mouthed and asking for bread, and we would have no bread to give to them.

"We have no assurances from Jehovah that there will be manna, as there was in olden times, to feed the Jews in the wilderness. We have to deal with facts as practical men, so before we advocate or encourage general immigration we must prepare the ground. This we can only do by sending out a limited army of able workers. They would form a framework there which we hope and believe eventually would be filled.

"I am convinced the Jews are an agrarian people. They took to trade because, being hounded for nearly 2,000 years from country to country, they had no chance to settle down to agricultural pursuits. What were they to do? Not being fools and asses, they did as others did and traded. Can you blame them if, their brain having been quickened and whetted by centuries of trouble and opposition, they pursued their vocations more eagerly and energetically than others and were often more successful?

"No. The Jew has no special talent for trade. I pretend to know the history of commerce, and I cannot find a single instance where a Jew has struck out in a new line. Hundreds of developments have been made, but never once has the Jew struck out in a new line. He has followed where others led, and even then he has been slow to adopt innovations. The Jew is at heart an agriculturist still, as he was ages ago."

On the Future of China.

"Spare no man that wears a pigtail," he says. "Ar," he says, "me an the Garmen Michael will smile on ye as ye kick the him out iv the shiragon an plant on the walls iv Peking the banner," he says. "Iv the cross an," he says, "the double cross," he says. "An if be chance ye shud pick up a little land be the way don't I've o'er a Frinchman or Eoshian take it fr'm ye or ye'll feel me speyal delivery hand on the back iv yer neck in a way that'll do ye no kind iv good. Hock Garmen Michael," he says, "hock me gran'father, hock the penny postage list," he says, "hock meself," he says. An the Garmen impror went back to his bedroom fr to worruk on the book he's goin to be-ving out nex' year to take the place iv the Bible.—Mr. Dooley in Harper's Weekly.

Shirt Waist Dance.

A shirt waist dance was given the other evening at the Pliabimmon. Ocean City, Md., near Elkton, which was participated in by many whose ways are pronounced correct. No gentleman was allowed on the floor unless he was coatless. Several who were in attendance attempted to participate in the dances with their coats on, but were promptly ejected from the floor.

MAX NORDAU.

anxiety would, of course, be undisputed, and we would pay him an annuity for allowing us to cultivate the land. We want the European powers to consent to be our guarantee with the sultan.

"The second thing we want to do is to organize the Jews who desire to quit the countries they now live in. In order to give our scheme a chance for success we must have methodical immigration, no tumultuous rush into Palestine. We cannot lead back at once all the Jews who are anxious to go back, but we want committees to whom we can say we will take 20 picked men, say 17 laborers, two black
